

To whom it may concern:

It is of my pleasure to pen this recommendation letter for Koo Bing En in support of his application to your University.

My first and most lasting impression of Koo Bing En, is that of his inquisitive mind. He asks many questions in class and eagerly seeks clarifications for any doubts he may have. He sets high standards for himself and commits to the tasks he sets his mind to. The initiative to learn is a trait that is increasingly hard to come by and Koo Bing En is one of the few to possess it.

Over his academic years in Seri Omega Private & International School, Koo Bing En also actively partook in a variety of activities which broadened his views and gave him maturity of thought. His participation in Chess Club enhanced his critical thinking skills which can in turn, be used in his daily life by deepening his perspectives on social issues. He also actively involved in sports by joining Badminton Club for his extracurricular activities. His participation in Biology lab session also enhanced his critical thinking skills which can in turn, be used in his daily life by deepening his perspectives on creative thinking.

With his drive for learning and constant self-improvement, Koo Bing En will come to possess many valuable skills that will make him an asset to your University.

Best Regards,
